T. L. ODDIE ON TRACK OF A GOOD MINE

Property in the White Mountains Looks Good to Him After Personal Inspection---Represents New Yorkers.

Senator T. L. Oddie and Mr. Morgan came in from Tonopah by auto a few days ago to examine prospects belonging to Jesse Lunn and associate, and situated in the White mountains across from Coldwater canyon. As this paper published some unfavorable comment on local authority, and as it never desires to condemn unjustly, we sought Senator Oddie Monday evening after his visit to the property, with special interest in his verdict. Mr. Oddie is one of the best known and most highly esteemed of Tonopah's citizens and promoters, and his opinion is of much value. This is what he has to say of the new find:

"It is good. I was in Tonopah and Goldfield when they started, and have no hesitation in saying that the showing on the claims we looked at is better than the surface showings in either of those camps.

"The ledge can be traced for three miles, I should judge, and good float can be picked up along its length. In places it is covered over with loose earth and rocks, but the same character of ledge matter holds; and where you can pick up, at different points, such float as this," and he exhibited a piece speckled with gold. "There must be something more.

"Of course the property is undeveloped, and only work will show how much it may be, but it certainly is a fine looking proposition for a prospect. I think well of it, and if arrangements can be made between the owners and the parties whom I represent we will take hold of it and open up the property on a scale worth while.

"I have been interested in Tonopah from the first. My interests now are in such shape as not to require personal attention, and I have been seeking something new. In this investigation I represent New York people, and of course any negotiations must be approved by them before being concluded. Everything looks right to me in this property, and in a week or ten days I will probably be back to get things going; that is, as soon as I can hear from New York. The vein is a contact. Another contact lies a mile or so to the eastward."

Mr. Oddie departed Tuesday. If all goes well with the plans, as we hope will be the case, a great deal more will be heard of the new mines within the next few months. And there are other good properties, too, which he is likely to give attention.

The discovery is the one made by D. C. Adamson about the middle of October. Samples which he picked up gave an assay of over $547 a ton, and pieces of the ore shown in town were liberally flecked with the yellow metal. Adamson's original location, in which John Beauregard is also interested, was named the Golden Siren. Adjoining claims, belonging to Jesse Lunn, Vernon Jenkins and W. W. Watterson, are known as the Hazel Belle. Since the discovery a number of prospectors have been visiting the locality.

With Mr. Oddie's highly favorable report, a greatly increased interest is likely to be taken; and sensational news from that locality need cause no surprise.

The situation is, at a guess, probably eighteen miles from here by practicable routes.—Inyo Register.

MILLIONAIRE NOW A PAUPER

RENO, Nov. 28.—W. L. Stevenson, formerly a Nevada mining millionaire, owner and operator of the Nevada Consolidated mine and mills at Olinghouse, and associate of the leaders of the Boston and New York stock exchanges, who in the excess of wealth bought the late Senator Leland Stanford's private car Sunland and had it remodeled into a palace on wheels, has gone broke. A laborer at Wadsworth, near Olinghouse, Stevenson mines, has brought suit, and the millionaire has permitted a receiver to be named for his property.

Stevenson has suspended operations on his railroad which he built to connect Olinghouse with the Southern Pacific railroad at Derby. He refuses to answer statements from creditors. The mines have closed indefinitely. The offices he maintained in the Flatiron building in New York are closed. The panic caused his downfall.

MORE GOOD WORDS.

The Tonopah Bonanza is doing splendid work in getting up a mining exhibit for use in the American Mining congress, which meets at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, December 2d to 5th inclusive. Charles Kielhofer of Tonopah, is an accredited delegate to this congress and parties having samples of ore which will do for this purpose, should send them to Mr. Kielhofer at once. The importance of the American Mining congress to Nevada at this time can not be over estimated. California, Colorado, and other states will be represented and Nevada should without fail have a first-class ore exhibit at the meeting. —Rhyolite Bulletin.
